

AHLA Top Honors recognizes the organizations behind our members—those law firms, organizations, health plans, businesses, and government agencies that consistently and enthusiastically encourage and sustain their members’ and employees’ affiliation with AHLA.

The Top 10 Companies list ranks the companies that have the most paid members enrolled in AHLA as of March 31, 2019. It is not a ranking of the largest health law firms or companies.

AHLA Educational Programs

AHLA's educational programs are the gold standard in the legal community. As the premier provider of continuing education to the profession, AHLA leads health law to excellence through many venues, from its highly regarded in-person programs held across the country to its distance learning webinars that cover breaking regulatory issues and hot topics.

Distance Learning Registrations

AHLA's distance learning webinars allow participants the flexibility to stay abreast of regulatory developments in the health law field, and in most cases earn continuing legal education credits, without having to leave the comfort of their office, home, or any other location from which it's most convenient to participate. Participants are able to access live presentations via their web browsers and ask questions in real time.

The Distance Learning Registrations list ranks the companies that have the most AHLA members registered for distance learning webinars during fiscal year 2019 (June 1, 2018–May 31, 2019). Each person is only counted once, even if he or she registered for multiple webinars.
